DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U. S. Publication No. 2007/0107688 US Application no. 10/938,395 to Strommer et al.

4. Regarding Claims 1, 3-5, and 7-10 Strommer teaches an apparatus for assisting navigation in a vessel comprising: a sensor probe for acquiring local images that characterize the vessel at the point where the particular local image is made, which sensor probe can be moved along the vessel (0076); a memory for storing a sequence of local images that is obtained in the course of the movement of the sensor probe along the vessel; a data-processing unit that is arranged to sort a further local image of the vessel into the sequence that is stored in the memory based on similarities between the further and one or more local images.(Paragraph 0141)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U. S. Publication No. 2003/0199767, U. S. Application No. 10/232,428 to Cespedes et al. in view of U. S. Publication No. 2007/0107688 US Application no. 10/938,395 to Strommer et al.

7. Regarding Claims 1, 3-5, 7-10, and 13-18, Cespedes teaches an apparatus for assisting navigation in a vessel comprising: a sensor probe for acquiring local images that characterize the vessel at the point where the particular local image is made, which sensor probe can be moved along the vessel (Abstract); a memory for storing a sequence of local images that is obtained in the course of the movement of the sensor probe along the vessel and a data processor to sort the images. (Paragraph 0134)

8. Cespedes does not expressly teach that in the data processing device, the sorting being based on similarities between the further local image and one or more of the local images of the sequence.

9. Strommer teaches a data processing device, wherein the sorting is being based on similarities between the further local image and one or more of the local images of the sequence. (Paragraph 0141)

10. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to modify Cespedes with a data processing device with a sorting algorithm as taught by Strommer, since such a setup would result in more precise arrangement of the images with respect to each other and hence the navigation map would be more functional and accurate.

11. Regarding Claims 2, 6, 11, 12, and 18-20, Cespedes teaches that the sensor probe is an intravascular ultrasound system or a means for performing optical coherence tomography. (Abstract and Claim 1)

Conclusion

12. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

13. A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
